

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, JUNE 19, 1886.

A. B. Hammond, the candidate for County Clerk, has been keeping books for W. L. Pence for seven years, and is in every way well qualified for the position.

Mr. Saint C. J. Page, youngest son of Mrs. Jane Page, of this city, died Thursday evening at his home near Payne's Depot, Scott county, after an illness of twelve months' duration. The remains were brought to this city yesterday afternoon and interred in the family lot in the cemetery.

Mr. Pat. Callahan and Miss Ellen Conway eloped from this city on Friday morning of last week and were married in Jeffersonville. They returned to this city Sunday evening, on the C. & O. train, and have settled down to married life, having received the forgiveness of the bride's parents.

Attention, Councilmen!

There is a rumor floating through the streets of the city that the School Board will sometime this evening march in a body to the wooden bridge, armed with field glasses to examine the progress of the work done on the new school building. Will there be any objection?

The City Council, at its last meeting, relieved the School Trustees of any further duties on the School Building Committee. The next day one of the School Trustees accosted one of the Councilmen, who, by the way, is a monied man, and took him aside and whispered in his ear that he was anxious to negotiate a loan or to dispose of some stocks he had. The Councilman, thinking he had a good thing in sight, quickly asked what sort of stock it was. He was informed that it was School Board stock. The sale was not made.

Thursday morning Col. Ike Wingate, the Mayor of Woodlake, this county, sent to Judge R. A. Thompson the head and skin of a double-headed calf which one of his cows gave birth to. The heads were perfect, well formed and were joined together from the top of the head to within two inches of the end of the lower jaw. It had two mouths and four eyes, but only two ears. It was red, with a large white spot in each forehead. The monstrosity was born dead. A large number of persons went to the Court House, where it was on exhibition, to take a look at it.

Mr. Leon L. Moore, formerly of this city, was nearly killed by Henry Fischer, a bar-keeper at Jeungst & Co.'s saloon, northeast corner of Third and Walnut streets, Louisville, on Tuesday afternoon. He went into the place under the influence of liquor and got into an altercation with Fischer, during which he ran his hand down in the hip pocket of his pants, as if to draw a weapon, when Fischer jumped over the counter and struck him a heavy blow on the head with a policeman's billy, knocking him senseless to the floor, and followed it up with numerous other blows until a policeman came in to stop the row. It was thought at first Mr. Moore's skull was fractured, but fortunately only the scalp was cut by the billy.

Monday morning while our motor was in operation, the short section of lead pipe connecting the motor with the two-inch pipe which conveys the water from the street main into the building, burst and in a second, the time required to shut off the water at the throttle valve, our office was flooded. Judge Sam. R. Smith was just entering the office at the time, and being on a line with the stream, was liberally sprinkled, but not liking to take water in that way, dodged around the large press, while several of the brethren who were supposed to be fond of water, took refuge behind the larger stands and frames on the other side of the room, and the pressman fled precipitately before the flood and spray, under the impression that some one had turned the hose on him from the street. The lead pipe was supplanted by a stout iron one capable of withstanding the immense pressure in a short time, and everything has since been running as smooth as a ribbon.

Mr. J. Gray McLean, Private Secretary to State Auditor Fayette Hewett, and Miss Lottie Stanton, daughter of Maj. H. T. Stanton, will be married on Thursday next, and Dr. Sam. E. James and Miss Louett Taylor will also be married on the same day.

The closing exercises of the colored Public School took place in the chapel of the colored school building on Thursday and Friday evenings. Quite a number of parents and friends of the school were present and were well pleased at the success of their children. Year after year this school continues to improve. A larger account of the closing exercises will be given in our next issue.

Thursday afternoon Will Bryant, a colored man living in the lower part of the city, was standing on the railroad, near the engine house, when a party whose name we failed to learn, was shooting a flobert rifle down on the edge of Benson, aimed his gun up the hill and fired, the ball striking Bryant just behind the right knee and ranged up into the thigh, inflicting a painful wound. Mr. Smith was called in to dress the wound, who in looking for the ball ran a probe four inches into the wound but failed to reach it. The party who fired the shot claims the shooting was accidental.

Mr. Dan. J. McCarty, who has just returned from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, where he was attending the meeting of the International Typographical Union, reports having seen Dick Ennis, the Murphy worker, who spent a month or two in this city in 1877, in the temperance work. He learned of Mr. McCarty's presence in the city and looked him up for the purpose of sending his love to all those he knew here. Dan. says he is working well and seems to be getting along well in the world. He gave him a number of cards, bearing the inscription, "Richard Ennis, President Trades Assembly of Western Pennsylvania. Residence, 135 Centre Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.," for distribution among his friends here.

The Swiss Aid Society of Louisville having planned a grand excursion to the Swiss colony, "Bernstadt," in Laurel county, Kentucky, in which the Swiss and Germans from all over the State are most cordially invited to participate, we cheerfully comply with a request to inform our readers of all the details of interest to those who wish to join.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad company will sell tickets, from and to all stations on their lines, to parties intending to visit Bernstadt on this occasion, for one single fare from their respective stations to Louisville, whence a special excursion train for Pittsburg (the railroad station of Bernstadt) will leave on Saturday night, July 3d, at 9 o'clock. Round trip, from and back to Louisville, is $3. Arrival at Pittsburg about 4 o'clock, a. m., Sunday, July 4th. Excursionists may use any return train between July 4th and July 8th, but their tickets will not be good after departure of train at 11:20 o'clock p. m., of July 8th, 1886. Parties from other points than Louisville along the line of the L. & N. R. R. must take tickets only from their respective points of departure for Louisville, and then obtain separate tickets good for the excursion train to and from Pittsburg.

All tickets must be stamped at Pittsburg to be made good for the return trip.

The Swiss singing society, "Alpenrosli," of Louisville, will attend in a body, with their flag.

The "Gruetli Society," of Louisville, will likewise attend, with 22 Cantonal flags and the Society banner.

The "Swiss Aid Society," of Louisville, will have a decorated wagon to carry its members from Pittsburg to Bernstadt.

Wagons will be provided for the use of the ladies and children in going from Pittsburg to Bernstadt.

A live bear (the coat of arms of the city and canton of Bern, Switzerland,) will march ahead of the procession as it moves from Pittsburg to the colony, and various and sundry entertainments will be gotten up to make the occasion thoroughly enjoyable.

In reply to his request for the photographs of four different correspondents, our venerable Uncle Zeke Yocum has received the photo. of our Bloomington correspondent and is highly delighted with it. The picture is a splendid likeness and the position of the original was a very unique and interesting one at the time the shadow was caught. The artist has done his work well, and the picture will be preserved as a specimen of fine art. It is at present on exhibition in our sanctum.

FRANKFORT, June 14th, 1886.
Mr. Ed. M. Drane, Chairman of the Republican County Committee:
DEAR SIR:—You will please withdraw my name as a candidate for County Judge. I don't want it. Could not even make a good race, as I cannot spare the time to campaign.
Yours respectfully,
V. BERBERICH.

Woodlake in Luck.

The following letter explains itself:
BRIDGEPORT, CONN., June 18, 1886.
Col. Ike Wingate, Woodlake, Ky.:
I was notified when my circus showed in Frankfort, May 22d, that you were expecting very soon a two-headed calf would be born to one of your circus colored cows, and was not surprised when I received the following telegram, to-wit:
"Wingate bobs up with a two-headed calf. Shall I buy him out, or engage him to side-show with us?"
"P. McD."
Please telegraph me immediately your terms to go along with the other calf and lecture twice each day.
P. T. BARNUM.

Republican Meeting.

At a meeting of the Republicans of this, the first magisterial district, held at the Court House on Thursday evening, June 17th, W. H. Murray was called to the chair and C. C. Furr appointed secretary. Capt. E. M. Drane stated the object of the meeting to be nominating candidates for magistrate and constable for this district.
J. B. Lewis, W. P. Emerson and W. B. Robinson were then placed in nomination for magistrate; and a ballot being taken, J. B. Lewis and W. P. Emerson received a majority of all the votes cast, and were declared the nominees.
W. S. Saffell, R. Henry Gayle, C. I. McKee and W. B. Showalter were then put in nomination for constable.
W. S. Saffell received a majority of all the votes cast and was declared the nominee.
On motion, all the nominations were made unanimous.
On motion, a committee consisting of T. J. Hutchison, H. G. Banta, Henry Samuels, John Thomas, H. J. Hyde and ——— were appointed to notify the candidates of their nomination.
Mr. Emerson, being present, accepted the nomination and pledged himself, if elected, to discharge the duties of the office faithfully and without fear or favor to any one.
On motion, the meeting then adjourned.
